Numb. 3231

Tuesday, September 18, 1744.

Berlin, September 15.

HIS Majesty has order'd the following Proclamation to be publiſhed at the Head of his Troops, and in all Places that have ſubmitted to him in Bohemia; having alſo directed ſome Thouſand Copies to be diſpers'd thro' that Kingdom.

'In this troubled Situation 'wherein we behold our dear 'Country at preſent, his Imperial Majeſty now reign-'ing, being diſpoſſeſs'd of his Dominions, and depriv'd 'of all Authority, the King of Pruſſia, our Maſter, 'could no longer defer doing what his Imperial Ma-'jeſty deſir'd, and what became him to do, in virtue 'of his Obligations to the Emperor and Empire, as one 'of its principal States and Electors. In Conſequence 'of this, and from Views equally upright, and worthy 'of his Love to his Country, his Pruſſian Majeſty has 'granted a Part of his Forces to the Head of the Em-'pire, under the Title of Auxiliaries; with a View, as 'well to reſtore the Authority and Dignity of the Im-'perial Office, abſolutely oppreſs'd for the preſent, as 'to re-eſtabliſh Peace and general Tranquillity through-'out all Germany, our dear Country; and his Imperial 'Majeſty having thought that it would be both uſeful 'and neceſſary, in order to attain to this ſalutary End, 'that the ſaid Auxiliary Troops ſhould enter, and act 'in the Kingdom of Bohemia; We, by theſe our Let-'ters Patent, make known the ſame to all the Vaſſals, 'Inhabitants, and Subjects of the Kingdom of Bohe-'mia, whether they reſide in the great Towns, or in 'the open Country, of the ſaid Kingdom. In the mean 'time, we moſt ſeriouſly exhort them not to make any 'Reſiſtance, or to oppoſe the leaſt Obſtacle towards the 'ſaid Auxiliary Troops, or their Undertakings; but to 'remain Quiet, and at Peace, in their reſpective Dwell-'ings. In which Caſe, they may promiſe themſelves 'Protection and Security; and be aſſur'd, that they 'ſhall not only be ſafe from any Soldiers entering into, 'or diſturbing them in their Eſtates, but alſo, that the 'ſaid Auxiliary Troops ſhall obſerve the ſtricteſt and 'moſt rigorous Diſcipline; and that whatever they fur-'niſh them, towards their Subſiſtence, or the Supply of 'their Neceſſities, in any reſpect, ſhall fairly be deducted 'out of the Contributions they ought to pay, or other-'wiſe accounted for to the States and Subjects of Bohe-'mia. But if, on the other Hand, any of the ſaid Vaſſals, 'Inhabitants, or Subjects of the Kingdom of Bohemia, 'ſhould be ſo ill adviſ'd, as to commit any Acts of Ho-'ſtility againſt the ſaid Imperial Auxiliary Troops, in 'any Manner, or any Pretext whatſoever; we ſhall, with-'out the leaſt Pity, employ Fire and Sword in puniſhing 'the Guilty. And to take away, before hand, all Occaſion 'for the committing ſuch Hoſtilities, it is by theſe Let-'ters Patent, ſtrictly enjoin'd to all and every one of the 'Peaſants and Inhabitants of the Country of Bohemia, 'that whatever Arms they ſhall have in their Poſſeſſion, 'whether their own, or not, they ſhall, without any 'Exception, and without the leaſt Delay, carry them to 'the Lords from whom they hold their Lands, or to 'the Magiſtrates neareſt the Place of their Abode; ſo 'that the ſaid Lord or Magiſtrate, may, as it is expected 'he ſhould, become Security for their good Behaviour. 'And, in Conformity to this Proclamation, if, after the 'Publication thereof, any Inhabitant of the Country, 'or Peaſant, ſhall be found with Arms, either upon 'him, or in his Cuſtody, he ſhall be hang'd without 'farther Enquiry, and without Remiſſion; and the moſt 'rigorous Proceeding ſhall be had againſt the Lord, or 'Magiſtrate of the Place, in order to puniſh any Neg-'ligence, or Connivance in them; or, in caſe the Cir-'cumſtances of the Thing deſerve it, the whole Village 'ſhall be pillag'd, and reduc'd to Aſhes.'

Given at our Head Quarters at Peterſwald, Auguſt 25, 1744.

IRELAND.

Weſtport in the County of Mayo, Auguſt 31. There was a large Ship, the Ulto Gertrude, Peter Suneck, Maſter, laden with Lead and Fiſh from Hamburgh, bound to Venice, drove on Part of the Eſtate of John Brown, of this Place, Eſq; on the 29th Inſtant; a Gentleman remarkable for his great Humanity to all Perſons, and Ships in Diſtreſs, by whom many Veſſels have been ſaved from Shipwreck. It is to be feared the Ship will be loſt; but, as Mr. Brown had timely Notice, he went to the Sea Side with his Tenants and Servants, and prevented her being plundered by the Country; by which Means, it is hoped, the whole Cargo will be ſaved for the Owners.

Dublin, Sept. 8. Mr. James Hazard is elected Sword Bearer of this City, in the room of Mr. Kelly Hunt, lately deceas'd.

The Iron Works at Ballineclaſh, in the County of Wicklow, are in ſuch a good Way, that ſeveral Pieces of Cannon are now boring; which may be a great Advantage to this Kingdom, by furniſhing our own Ships with Guns.

At a Court of Admiralty, held laſt Saturday by the Worſhipful John Hawkſhaw, Eſq; Judge of that Court, the St. John of Granville, a French Ship, laden with Oil and Fiſh from Newfoundland, and taken by the Terrible Privateer of Liverpool, was condemned as a legal Prize.

We hear, that the Privateer, called the Dublin, now fitting out at Liverpool, by ſeveral Gentlemen of Dublin, to cruize upon the French and Spaniards, will be ſoon compleatly fitted out, and may be expected the latter End of this Month in Dublin; where ſhe will take in her Proviſions, Powder, and ſuch Compliment of Landmen and Seamen, as ſhall be wanted. She mounts ſix twelve Pounders, 18 nine Pounders, 30 Swivels, and between 240 and 300 Men. She is above 350 Ton, and a prime Sailer; and is thought to be the beſt Privateer yet fitted out.

Dublin, Sept. 11. Laſt Friday Evening a dreadful Fire broke out of a Hay Stack, in King's-ſtreet, near Stephen's Green, which was occaſioned by making it up too ſoon. Two Houſes received conſiderable Damage by it; but by the Care of the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, Firemen, &c. it was prevented from ſpreading further.

On Tueſday next comes on, at the Tholſel of this City, the Election of an Alderman, in the room of Alderman David Tew, deceas'd.

Laſt Saturday ſeveral of the French Priſoners at Bedminſter Bridewell made their Eſcape; three of whom were retaken on Sunday Night, by the Watch of the City; on one of them, who was ſent to Bridewell, were found ſeveral Piſtols; the other two were ſecured in the Guard-Houſe for that Night.

General Poſt-Office, London, September 14, 1744.

LONDON.

The Circle of Swabia have made warm Repreſentations to the Emperor, and the Dyet at Francktort, in relation to the heavy Contributions levied in the Country of Baden, contrary to the Neutrality of the Circle, and in direct Violation of the Emperor's Letters requiſitorial; and it is remarkable, that the Duke of Wirtemberg, tho' he has acceded to the Treaty of Union, is likewiſe a Party to this Repreſentation.

There are private Advices from Franckfort, which ſay, that the Royal and Electoral Prince of Bavaria is ſpeedily to marry a Princeſs, Siſter to a certain Monarch, whoſe Alliance may be of great Uſe to his Imperial Majeſty.

Letters from Hamburgh ſay, that there are like to be great Troubles and Diſſentions in Poland; and that very little is expected from the Dyet at Grodno.

Private Letters from the Hague inſinuate, that to prevent the Chriſtian Powers from taking Umbrage at it, the Porte has lately carried on a ſecret Negotiation, by its own Agents, with certain Princes; the Effects of which, it is thought, will ſhortly become viſible to all the World.

The ſame Letters ſay, that this Day is fix'd for the States of a certain Province to come to a ſettled Reſolution, as to the Anſwer that ſhall be given to the Letters, Memorials, and other Applications on the Part of her Hungarian Majeſty and her Allies; ſo that we ſhall ſoon be out of our Pain, on that Head; tho', by taking their Ships, one would imagine, the Spaniards underſtood the Minds of the Dutch already.

Yeſterday at Noon the Purſer of the Duke (the laſt of the Ships that came North about) came to Town, with the agreeable News that the ſaid Ship is ſafe arriv'd at Aberdeen; and that Governor Benym, from Madras, Paſſenger on board the ſaid Ship, landed the 8th Inſtant; and the ſame Day ſet out for London.

To-morrow the Commiſſioners for Victualling his Majeſty's Navy, will treat for the Freight of Proviſions, Stores, &c. for Portmahon, Jamaica, and Antigua.

Yeſterday in the Evening their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, ſet out from Carleton-Houſe for Cliefden.

Yeſterday the great Cricket Match that was play'd in the Artillery Ground for 200 Guineas, between the Six beſt Players of Kent, and Slendon in Suſſex, was won by the former by Sixteen Notches.

This Day a grand Council is ſummoned to meet at Kenſington, on Affairs of great Importance.

Yeſterday a noted Smuggler (a Frenchman, that lived in King-ſtreet, by St. James's Square) was apprehended by the Conſtables in the Court at St. James's Palace, and carried before a Magiſtrate, who committed him to Jail.

The Epilogue ſpoken at the Play deſir'd by the Gentlemen Cricketteers of Barrow; by George Alexander Stevens, in the Character of a Cricketteer.

Our fam'd Forefathers ſweat for honeſt Praiſe,
And gain'd, by Exerciſe, a Length of Days.
Amidſt Athletic Arts for Health they toil'd,
And Sloth diſdaining, at Diſtempers ſmil'd.
Sound manly Valour, rough Herculean Grace,
New ſtrung each Nerve, and glow'd in every Face.
Of all the Joys our Parents did partake,
From Games Olympic, down to Country Wake;
To one more Noble they cou'd ne'er reſort
Than Cricket! Cricket! ever active Sport.
The Sight how Glorious when the Batt we weild;
Dreſs'd plainly Elegant, and ſpread the Field.
At Diſtance wait to break the Striker's Force;
And catch the mounted Ball, or ſtop its Courſe.
So the ſharp-ſighted Hawk ſtoops to the Plain;
Snatches his deſtin'd Prey, then ſoars again.
Or when the careful Bowler ſtands prepar'd
With ſkilful Aim, to mock the Batſman's Guard.
As Engineers their Batteries prepare,
And the ſwift Shot burſt thund'ring thro' the Air.
But when the well-ſtruck Ball rebounds again,
Skims o'er th' unbended Graſs, and whirls along the Plain;
Elate the Striker ſprings, his Feet he plies,
And loud Applauſes follow as he flies.
Let Fops enfeebled nurſe Sloth's black Diſeaſe,
And ſimply ſaunter in inſipid Eaſe;
Loſe Life in lazy Dreams of Ladies Graces,
'Midſt Cards, Coquets, new Faſhions, Fans and Faces.

But may each Lover of this active Game,
By well-try'd Labour, grow to glorious Fame;
Free from soft Sloth, to Reputation rise,
By honest, healthful, manly Exercise.
So may each Fair your fondest wish'd Desires,
Welcome with equal Warmth your ardent Fires:
Then a new Noble Race this Land may see,
Strong, hardy, active, generous, bold and free;
Such once we were—such still may Britons be.
